EXPANSION - NATURES AND SHINY POKÉMON

Ever since Generation 3, Pokémon have had individual natures that impact their development as they grow. A direct translation of that system is impractical for PMTU, but the rules on this page allow for Pokémon to have a degree of uniqueness and individuality.

INTERACTING WITH NATURES

Natures are used in conjunction with other Attach Cards by introducing a second Attachment Card Slot on your Pokémon Rack. Without the use of custom racks, you may need to overlap the cards.

At the beginning of the game, shuffle the Nature deck and set it next to the Region Map board with the other decks. Once all players have chosen their starter Pokémon, each player draws three cards from the Nature deck, chooses one of them to Attach to their Pokémon, then shuffles the rest back into the deck. One-Time effects (see below) are resolved after all unchosen cards have been shuffled back in.

When a Pokémon token is revealed before any type of encounter or when one would be added directly to your team, reveal the top card of the Nature deck and attach it to the Pokémon. If the card has the phrase, "One-Time:", perform the instructions that follow the phrase immediately. These cards are usually discarded and replaced as part of their effect.

Nature cards that stay attached to the Pokémon grant some kind of ongoing benefit to it, though some are conditional. Any time the conditions are fulfilled, the Pokémon gains the benefit on the card, even if it has not yet been caught by a Trainer.

If a Pokémon with a Nature card attached to it is caught, the Nature cards stays attached to it. If the encounter ends in a way that would leave a Pokémon token faceup on a CATCH 'EM space, put the Nature card into the Nature card discard pile. If the Pokémon token is returned to storage, the Nature card is also discarded.

If the Nature deck ever runs out of cards, shuffle the discard pile to form a new Nature deck.

SHINY POKÉMON

You can use this optional rule to make it even more exciting to encounter a ✧Shiny Pokémon.

Whenever a revealed Pokémon token becomes ✧Shiny, whether that be through an Item card like Shiny Charm, the Shiny Nature card, or some other effect, that Pokémon immediately gains a Level. Replace the token with the ✧Shiny version of that token and place a Level Die next to it to denote its gained Level. The Pokémon stays ✧Shiny as it Evolves.
